Democratic Society.

At a meeting of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania, held at Philadelphia, on the eighth day of May in the year 1794, and of American Independence the eighteenth:

RESOLVED, as the opinion of this society, that the constitution of the United States, the sacred instrument of our freedom which every public officer has sworn to preserve inviolate, has provided, that the different departments of the government should be kept distinct; and consequently that to unite them is a violation of it, and an encroachment upon the liberties of the people guaranteed by that instrument.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that, as by the constitution all treaties are declared to be the supreme law of the land, it becomes the duty of the judiciary to expound and apply them; to permit, therefore, an officer in that department to share in their formation, is to unite distinct functions, and tends to level the barriers of our freedom, and to establish precedents pregnant with danger.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that justice requires, and the security of the citizens, of the United States, claims an independence in the judiciary power: that permitting the executive offices of honor and profit upon judges, is to make them its creatures, rather than the unprejudiced and inflexible guardians of the constitution and the laws.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that from the nature and terms of an impeachment against a President, it is not only necessary that the chief justice of the United States should preside in the senate, but that he should be above the biass which the honors and emoluments in the gift of the executive might create; that it is, therefore, contrary to the intent and spirit of the constitution to give him a foreign mission, or to annex any office to that which he already holds.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that every attempt to supercede legislative functions by executive interference, is highly dangerous to the independence of the legislature, and subversive of the right of representation.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that the appointment of John Jay, chief justice of the United States, as envoy extraordinary to the court of Great Britain, is contrary to the spirit and meaning of the constitution; as it unites in the same person judicial and legislative functions, tends to make him dependant upon the President, destroys the check by impeachment upon the executive, and has a tendency to controul the proceedings of the legislature, the appointment having been made at a time, when Congress were engaged in such measures as tended to secure a compliance, with our just demands.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that after the declaration made by John Jay, that Great Britain was justifiable in her detention of the western posts, it was a sacrifice of the interests and the peace of the United States to commit a negociation to him, in which the evacuation of those posts ought to form an essential part; that to abandon them is to put at stake the blood of our fellow citizens on the frontiers, is to give birth to a perpetual military establishment, an endless war, and all the oppressions resulting from excise and heavy taxation.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be made public, that they be immediately transmitted to all the Democratic societies in the union, as a protest of freemen against the most unconstitutional and dangerous measure in the annals of the United States, and as an evidence, that no influence or authority whatever shall awe into a tacit sacrifice of their sacred rights.

By order of the society,
J. SMITH, Presid. pro. tem.
Geo. Booth, Sec'ry.

BOSTON, May 12.

Accounts and letters from Portsmouth, state that Capt. Salters has arrived there in 46 days from Dartmouth in England, who informs, that the day before he sailed, news was received there, that the French had captured the islands of Guernsey and Jersey—that on the day he sailed, the news was corroborated by other intelligence, and believed.

The intelligence by the above arrival is to March 20th or 21st. The islands of Guernsey and Jersey are on the French coast, the latter not more than 7 or 8 leagues distant, and Dartmouth is on the coast of England immediately opposite to them. They are extremely fertile and generally contain much provisions; of course are an object. St. Maloes, where the French were in force, is not far from them, and the accounts from England, to March 18th, state, that the French contemplated their capture.

By a gentleman from the northward we are informed, that boats, &c. trading from the United States to Canada, are detained and the men insolently refused permission to return. "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall."

NORFOLK, May 7.

A correspondent observes, with heart felt satisfaction, that the defensive operations of this port are at length begun, and will shortly be completed upon a scale sufficiently capacious to secure the tranquility and respectability of the harbour against the lawless banditti of rovers which at this time infest the seas. The inhabitants of Norfolk and Portsmouth, upon this occasion, prove their patriotic and republican zeal by generous and almost unanimous contributions to the public works—a good criterion to try good citizens by.

PETERSBURGH, May 6.

A gentleman from Savannah, informs, that on the 19th ult. arrived in that port, the French privateer schooner Les Amis Point Petre, Captain Talbot, with a prize ship of 600 tons, mounting 16 guns, and had on board about 150 men, belonging to Pensacola, said to be worth about 120,000 dollars. This is the eighth valuable prize taken by Captain Talbot. The schooner mounts only ten four pounders, and is said to belong to Captain John Sinclair, of Smithfield.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.

Extract of a letter from New-York, dated the 13th May.

"We are just returned from seeing Mr. Jay embark. In consequence of a note in the Daily Advertiser, that he would go on board at 10 o'clock, upwards of a thousand people assembled before Trinity Church, from whence they escorted him to the ship; they gave three cheers on his going on board, and as the ship passed the Fort, they fired a salute.

Mr. Jay has taken passage in the ship Onio, Captain Kemp.

A letter dated New-York the 12th mentions that Mr. Jay embarked on the morning of that day under a salute from the cannon of the place; but that the militia had refused parading to do honor to the departure of our extraordinary minister.

There is a letter in town, dated, Paris, March 12, which says that that city and the armies have bread enough to subsist on until next harvest. The capital experiences a scarcity of meat, which is not surprising, considering, that a great portion of that article for the supply of Paris was formerly raised in that part of the Republic now called La Vendee, which has been totally laid waste to facilitate the extirmination of the royalists.

The different professions in Baltimore and New-York continue to lend their aid to the fortifications. The Lawyers proposed assisting at Governor's Island on Saturday last.

Pittsburgh, May 31.

General Charles Scott passed through this place a few days ago for Kentucky; we understand he is authorised to raise 2000 men and upwards, if he thinks proper in that country, to act against the Savages, independent of Gen. Wayne's command.

A rumour has prevailed here for some days past, and as it came from a respectable quarter, we may give credit to it, that Gen. Simcoe had erected fortifications and established a garrison at the Rapids of the Miami—and that Col. England, with two additional British regiments was to leave Detroit, and join him in order to enable him to extend the fortifications as he may think proper.

Lieutenant M'Lean with a party of about 100 men passed down the river from this place on Wednesday last, to join the army at Head Quarters.

BY YESTERDAY'S MAIL.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.

By two resolutions passed on Wednesday, in the House of Representatives, Congress are to rise on the third of June, and meet on the first Monday of November.

By a late act of Congress, 80,000 select militia are ordered to be equipped and held in readiness to march at a moment's warning. Orders for the execution of the act are issued. This force will be amply sufficient to defend the country against any attempts against its safety or independence.

No official account had been received of an encroachment of the English on our Western territory, but a letter is in town, transmitted by express, to which general credit is given, stating that three companies of British troops, under the command of Colonel Simcoe, Governor of Upper Canada, have lately taken post near the rapids of the Miami of the Lakes. This step, indeed, is but a natural consequence of the disposition of the British, as expressed in Lord Dorchester's speech to the Indians.

Mr. Sedgwick's bill for raising 25,000 regulars was rejected in the House of Representatives on Monday last—42 to 24.

Yesterday in the House of Representatives of the United States, Mr. Sedgwick called up the bill, some time since reported by him pursuant to orders of the house for raising, organizing, and equipping an additional provisional military force—The first section of which specifies the number of men thus to be raised, viz. 25,000—This section after some debate was struck out—Mr. Sedgwick then moved the following as a substitute for the first section—"That there shall be raised upon the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, an additional provisional military force, to consist of non-commissioned officers, privates and musicians, together with a proper proportion of commissioned officers. After further debate, this motion was likewise negatived, and the whole bill fell of course.

The house sat till a late hour, debating on the bill for laying duties on snuff, tobacco and loaf sugar—a motion to reject the bill on its first reading was at length negatived, and the bill referred to a committee of the whole.

It is reported that the British minister here has received notice from our government that Gen. Wayne should have orders to oppose any armed force, of whatever nation, which he might fall in with in his expedition. These orders, it is said, are to be given, in confidence of the truth of the account that Governor Simcoe has marched three companies into our territory. This warning is a piece of courtesy which might well be omitted, at least towards a nation whose orders to plunder us were studiously kept a secret.

By the snow Hebe, Captain Flinn, in 36 days from Oporto, we have certain intelligence of the Queen of Portugal rescinding her truce with the Algerines, and the sailing of a Portuguese squadron to expel the pirates from the Atlantic.

The value of the plunder in St. Pierre's alone, says a St. Vincent's paper of the 15th March, is supposed to amount to upwards of a million sterling.

Tuesday captain Joshua Barney arrived in town from Kingston, Jamaica, which place he left the 27th ult.

His Britannic majesty's consul general for the middle and southern states of America, gives notice, that he has received advice from his majesty's lieutenant governor of Jamaica, that the ports of that island will be open for the importation of all kinds of provisions, in neutral vessels, until the 20th of October next; at the expiration of which time four month's further notice will be given:—and for the encouragement of merchants trading to the ports in the island of St. Domingo, in the possession of his Majesty's forces, assurances are given that the vessels carrying provisions thither, will for the present, be allowed to bring away produce to the amount of their cargoes.

Democratic Society.

At a meeting of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania, held at Philadelphia, on the eighth day of May in the year 1794, and of American Independence the eighteenth:

RESOLVED, as the opinion of this society, that the constitution of the United States, the sacred instrument of our freedom which every public officer has sworn to preserve inviolate, has provided, that the different departments of the government should be kept distinct; and consequently that to unite them is a violation of it, and an encroachment upon the liberties of the people guaranteed by that instrument.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that, as by the constitution all treaties are declared to be the supreme law of the land, it becomes the duty of the judiciary to expound and apply them; to permit, therefore, an officer in that department to share in their formation, is to unite distinct functions, and tends to level the barriers of our freedom, and to establish precedents pregnant with danger.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that justice requires, and the security of the citizens, of the United States, claims an independence in the judiciary power: that permitting the executive offices of honor and profit upon judges, is to make them its creatures, rather than the unprejudiced and inflexible guardians of the constitution and the laws.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that from the nature and terms of an impeachment against a President, it is not only necessary that the chief justice of the United States should preside in the senate, but that he should be above the bias which the honors and emoluments in the gift of the executive might create; that it is, therefore, contrary to the intent and spirit of the constitution to give him a foreign mission, or to annex any office to that which he already holds.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that every attempt to supercede legislative functions by executive interference, is highly dangerous to the independence of the legislature, and subversive of the right of representation.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that the appointment of John Jay, chief justice of the United States, as envoy extraordinary to the court of Great Britain, is contrary to the spirit and meaning of the constitution; as it unites in the same person judicial and legislative functions, tends to make him dependant upon the President, destroys the check by impeachment upon the executive, and has a tendency to controul the proceedings of the legislature, the appointment having been made at a time, when Congress were engaged in such measures as tended to secure a compliance, with our just demands.

Resolved, as the opinion of this society, that after the declaration made by John Jay, that Great Britain was justifiable in her detention of the western posts, it was a sacrifice of the interests and the peace of the United States to commit a negociation to him, in which the evacuation of those posts ought to form an essential part; that to abandon them is to put at stake the blood of our fellow citizens on the frontiers, is to give birth to a perpetual military establishment, an endless war, and all the oppressions resulting from excise and heavy taxation.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be made public, that they be immediately transmitted to all the Democratic societies in the union, as a protest of freemen against the most unconstitutional and dangerous measure in the annals of the United States, and as an evidence, that no influence or authority whatever shall awe into a tacit sacrifice of their sacred rights.

By order of the society,
J. SMITH, Presid. pro. tem.
Geo. Booth, Sec'ry.

BOSTON, May 12.

Accounts and letters from Portsmouth, state that Capt. Salters has arrived there in 46 days from Dartmouth in England, who informs, that the day before he sailed, news was received there, that the French had captured the islands of Guernsey and Jersey—that on the day he sailed, the news was corroborated by other intelligence, and believed.

The intelligence by the above arrival is to March 20th or 21st. The islands of Guernsey and Jersey are on the French coast, the latter not more than 7 or 8 leagues distant, and Dartmouth is on the coast of England immediately opposite to them. They are extremely fertile and generally contain much provisions; of course are an object. St. Maloes, where the French were in force, is not far from them, and the accounts from England, to March 18th, state, that the French contemplated their capture.

BENNINGTON, May 2.

By a gentleman from the northward we are informed, that boats, &c. trading from the United States to Canada, are detained and the men insolently refused permission to return. "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall."

NORFOLK, May 7.

A correspondent observes, with heart felt satisfaction, that the defensive operations of this port are at length begun, and will shortly be completed upon a scale sufficiently capacious to secure the tranquility and respectability of the harbour against the lawless banditti of rovers which at this time infest the seas. The inhabitants of Norfolk and Portsmouth, upon this occasion, prove their patriotic and republican zeal by generous and almost unanimous contributions to the public works—a good criterion to try good citizens by.

PETERSBURGH, May 6.

A gentleman from Savannah, informs, that on the 19th ult. arrived in that port, the French privateer schooner Les Amis Point Petre, Captain Talbot, with a prize ship of 600 tons, mounting 16 guns, and had on board about 150 men, belonging to Pensacola, said to be worth about 120,000 dollars. This is the eighth valuable prize taken by Captain Talbot. The schooner mounts only ten four pounders, and is said to belong to Captain John Sinclair, of Smithfield.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.

Extract of a letter from New-York, dated the 13th May.

"We are just returned from seeing Mr. Jay embark. In consequence of a note in the Daily Advertiser, that he would go on board at 10 o'clock, upwards of a thousand people assembled before Trinity Church, from whence they escorted him to the ship; they gave three cheers on his going on board, and as the ship passed the Fort, they fired a salute.

Mr. Jay has taken passage in the ship Ohio, Captain Kemp.

A letter dated New-York the 12th mentions that Mr. Jay embarked on the morning of that day under a salute from the cannon of the place; but that the militia had refused parading to do honor to the departure of our extraordinary minister.

There is a letter in town, dated, Paris, March 12, which says that that city and the armies have bread enough to subsist on until next harvest. The capital experiences a scarcity of meat, which is not surprising, considering, that a great portion of that article for the supply of Paris was formerly raised in that part of the Republic now called La Vendee, which has been totally laid waste to facilitate the extirmination of the royalists.

The different professions in Baltimore and New-York continue to lend their aid to the fortifications. The Lawyers proposed assisting at Governor's Island on Saturday last.

Jean Rabel, and the Platform, in St. Domingo, lately in possession of the British and Spaniards, have been retaken by the Republicans of that island.

Pittsburgh, May 31.

General Charles Scott passed through this place a few days ago for Kentucky; we understand he is authorised to raise 2000 men and upwards, if he thinks proper in that country, to act against the Savages, independent of Gen. Wayne's command.

A rumour has prevailed here for some days past, and as it came from a respectable quarter, we may give credit to it, that Gen. Simcoe had erected fortifications and established a garrison at the Rapids of the Miami—and that Col. England, with two additional British regiments was to leave Detroit, and join him in order to enable him to extend the fortifications as he may think proper.

Lieutenant M'Lean with a party of about 100 men passed down the river from this place on Wednesday last, to join the army at Head Quarters.

 An Oration delivered before the Mechanical Society of Washington, is received—want of room has obliged us to omit it, but it shall appear next week.

BY YESTERDAY'S MAIL.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.

By two resolutions passed on Wednesday, in the House of Representatives, Congress are to rise on the third of June, and meet on the first Monday of November.

By a late act of Congress, 80,000 select militia are ordered to be equipped and held in readiness to march at a moment's warning. Orders for the execution of the act are issued. This force will be amply sufficient to defend the country against any attempts against its safety or independence.

No official account had been received of an encroachment of the English on our Western territory, but a letter is in town, transmitted by express, to which general credit is given, stating that three companies of British troops, under the command of Colonel Simcoe, Governor of Upper Canada, have lately taken post near the rapids of the Miami of the Lakes. This step, indeed, is but a natural consequence of the disposition of the British, as expressed in Lord Dorchester's speech to the Indians.

Mr. Sedgwick's bill for raising 25,000 regulars was rejected in the House of Representatives on Monday last—42 to 24.

Yesterday in the House of Representatives of the United States, Mr. Sedgwick called up the bill, some time since reported by him pursuant to orders of the house for raising, organizing, and equipping an additional provisional military force—The first section of which specifies the number of men thus to be raised, viz. 25,000—This section after some debate was struck out—Mr. Sedgwick then moved the following as a substitute for the first section—"That there shall be raised upon the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, an additional provisional military force, to consist of non-commissioned officers, privates and musicians, together with a proper proportion of commissioned officers. After further debate, this motion was likewise negatived, and the whole bill fell of course.

The house sat till a late hour, debating on the bill for laying duties on snuff, tobacco and loaf sugar—a motion to reject the bill on its first reading was at length negatived, and the bill referred to a committee of the whole.

It is reported that the British minister here has received notice from our government that Gen. Wayne should have orders to oppose any armed force, of whatever nation, which he might fall in with in his expedition. These orders, it is said, are to be given, in confidence of the truth of the account that Governor Simcoe has marched three companies into our territory. This warning is a piece of courtesy which might well be omitted, at least towards a nation whose orders to plunder us were studiously kept a secret.

By the snow Hebe, Captain Flinn, in 36 days from Oporto, we have certain intelligence of the Queen of Portugal rescinding her truce with the Algerines, and the sailing of a Portuguese squadron to expel the pirates from the Atlantic.

The value of the plunder in St. Pierre's alone, says a St. Vincent's paper of the 15th March, is supposed to amount to upwards of a million sterling.

Tuesday captain Joshua Barney arrived in town from Kingston, Jamaica, which place he left the 27th ult.

His Britannic majesty's consul general for the middle and southern states of America, gives notice, that he has received advice from his majesty's lieutenant governor of Jamaica, that the ports of that island will be open for the importation of all kinds of provisions, in neutral vessels, until the 20th of October next; at the expiration of which time four month's further notice will be given:—and for the encouragement of merchants trading to the ports in the island of St. Domingo, in the possession of his Majesty's forces, assurances are given that the vessels carrying provisions thither, will for the present, be allowed to bring away produce to the amount of their cargoes.
